

*Emma Cummins, Solicitor
LL.B., Dip. Family Law*

EMMA CUMMINS - PROFILE

Emma attended the University of Limerick, graduating in 2001 with an LLB (Honours) Degree in Law and European Studies. She qualified as a Solicitor in February 2006. Since qualifying, Emma was conferred with a Diploma in Family Law from the Law Society of Ireland. Prior to joining, Sheehan & Co., Emma worked with one of Galway's leading law firms Lewis C. Doyle & Co. Solicitors.

Emma has particular expertise in Family Law matters. Family law disputes tend to be a very traumatic experience for clients and Emma recognises the importance of bringing the necessary sensitivity to what can be a very delicate and sensitive time for all parties involved. Emma provides specialist advice on the following:

- Preparation and negotiation of Separation Agreements
- Applications for Judicial Separation and ancillary reliefs
- Applications for Divorce and ancillary reliefs
- Applications for Nullity
- Applications in relation to maintenance, guardianship, custody and access
- Non-marital relationships and Co-habitation Agreements

Emma is also an advocate of Collaborative Law and is a member of the Galway Collaborative Law Practitioners. Collaborative Law is an alternative dispute resolution in family law matters and is a new option for separating or divorcing couples to resolve disputes respectfully and fairly without going to court.
